FY 2011 Justice Assistance Grant Recovery Act: Intervention and Diversion Program:

The District of Columbia Justice Grants Administration announces funds to support service programs that prevent or reduce violent offending among at-risk youth and adults and programs or system improvements that expand and strengthen alternatives to detention, prosecution, and residential placement/prison for youth and adults. Applicants will need to identify concrete numerical benchmarks for reducing the number of youth and/or adults involved with such systems; identify detailed eligibility criteria and a referral process for achieving such reductions; and are strongly encouraged to include letters of support from the District and federal agencies as appropriate to ensure institutional buy-in for proposed activities. Applicants are also encouraged to propose evidence-based service strategies for these intervention and diversion activities, and to include a formal evaluation in their funding proposal.
